MOSBY'S MEN HOLD REUNION.

The fourteenth annual reunion of the Forty-third battalion, Virginia Cavalry, "Mosby's men," was held at Hamilton, yesterday, the veterans being the guests of Blue Ridge Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy.

All ex-Confederates in the county had been invited, and from dawn to noon a steady stream of those who wore the gray poured into town to handshake and greet once more the survivors of the famous band in Confederate history.

Col. Mosby was not there, his health preventing him from engaging in such festive gatherings.

A business meeting was the first in order at which new officers were chosen, as follows:

Commander, Capt. William H. Chapman, of Richmond; first lieutenant commander, B. F. Palmer, of Richmond; second lieutenant commander, Robert Harrover, of Washington; third lieutenant commander, T. W. Lake, of Loudoun county; sergeant major, Boyd M. Smith, of Louisa; chaplain, Rev. Frank A. Strother, of Fairfax; adjutant Henry A. Ashby, of Delaplane.

After this meeting, dinner was served on the lawn of S. E. Rogers, by the Daughters of the Confederacy. From the portico of the residence Mayor G. Ernest Leith delievered an address of welcome in behalf of the town and the Daughters of the Confederacy, to which a response was made by Rev. J. T. Williams, of West Virginia.

Capt John H. Alexander, of Leesburg, who has written a most excellent history of Mosby's exploits, himself a member of the command, was chosen toastmaster. The first to address the assemblage after dinner was Henry T. Harrison. Mr. Harrison's subject was "Mosby and his men," and his eulogy of the Confederate cause and of the gallant deeds of Mosby's command was greeted with plause.

Col. Hugh McIlhany, of Staunton, past commander of the camp, responded to Mr. Harrison.

A review of the old battle ground around the town was made, and many changes noted by the visitors.

A HUMAN LIFELINE.

The daring ingenuity of John J. Howard, a policeman, probably saved the life of John Weisenback, a cripple, who had been unable to flee with others from a burning house in New York. With the aid of several firemen, who grasped him by the legs as he swung head downward from a five story window of an adjoining house, the policeman swung across a five-foot court, grasped the cripple, who was leaning from the window of his burning home, surrounded by flames, and drew him up to safety. Almost before the flames had been checked, after damaging the building to the extent of $15,000, residents of the immediate vicinity, which is a poor tenement district, had started a purse for the policeman with contributions of $250 and were preparing a petition to Commissioner Bingham to advance the patrolman to the rank of sergeant "in behalf of the Jewish population of the neighborhood."

LOST A MILLION A DAY.

An aggregate loss of $1,000,000 a day during the months when the forest fires have been prevailing in various parts of the United States is estimated by W. J. Magee, the erosion expert of the Department of Agriculture. The forestry bureau, in a statement yesterday, says that probably in every instance the devastating forest fires might have been prevented if the various states had provided an adequate number of men to patrol the woods and arrest the fires in their incipiency and if lumbermen and other users of the forest had been careful to dispose of brush after logging, so as to prevent the spread of fires.

Exclusive of salaries of forest officers the work of putting down fires on the national forests during the past year cost the government $30,000, which means protecting approximately 168,000,000 acres. The statement says the loss from timber destroyed in 1908 will be larger than last year, but that it is doubtful if the exact losses will ever be known.

DeWitt's Carbolized Witch Hazel Salve is the best thing to use for piles. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co.

Best Treatment for a Burn.

If for no other reason, Chamberlain's Salve should be kept in every household on account of its great value in the treatment of burns. It allays the pain almost instantly, and unless the injury is a severe one, heals the parts without leaving a scar. This salve is also unequaled for chapped hands, sore nipples and diseases of the skin. Price, 25 cents. For sale by W. F. Creighton & Co. and Richard Gibson.

"Ninety Three"

The Story of a Famous Name and How it Originated.

The foremost dermatologist in France, Dr. Sabourand, of Paris, and Prof. Unna, Hamburg, Germany, discovered that a microbe cause baldness. To prove their theory, Dr. Sabourand infected a guinea pig with some of these microbes, and in a comparatively short time the animal was denuded of every hair that was on its body.

Some eminent histologists and chemists were employed by the United Drug Co., Boston, Mass., to find the means of destroying these microbes and a remedy that would create a new growth of hair where the roots had not been entirely destroyed.

After months of study, experimenting and research work, they discovered what they claimed would do what was demanded. To unquestionably prove their theory, 100 leading druggists, located in as many different cities, were requested to each furnish the name of a responsible person suffering from falling hair and baldness. Each of these 100 persons were furnished three bottles of the preparation with a request to give it a thorough trial and report results.

Five of these persons failed to report. Two declared they had been bald for years; that their hair follicles had long been closed and their scalps were smooth and glossy.

Ninety-three of the 100 sent in enthusiastic reports, stated that they were delighted with the hair-restoring qualities of the preparation, and expressed sincere thanks for the wonderful benefits brought about by its use. In commemoration of this, the new preparation was named Rexall "93" Hair Tonic.

We sell this remedy with the distinct understanding that it is free of cost to the user in every case where it does not completely remove dandruff, stimulate the hair follicles, revitalize the hair roots, stop the hair from falling out, grow new hair and make the scalp free from irritation.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic comes in two sizes; prices, 50c and $1.00. W. P. Taylor, 616 King street.

There are few, if any, of the people who do not want the best goods for the least money. Taking this statement for a fact and believing it to be true—a further truth presents itself, that of ability to pay high prices for the best articles. If the pocket will not stand the strain for liquors which range from $4 to $8 per gallon, a few lots can be mentioned from $2 to $2.60. We do no claim that this whisky equals the other, but we are confident of the fact that it is the best in the city for the money. SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

THURSDAY EVENING, OCT. 1, 1908.

A DISPATCH from Guthrie, Oklahoma, says Governor Haskell is still after President Roosevelt. In a statement given out by the governor last night he says:

Frankly speaking, I could have arrived at no other conclusion than that the president in his blind, reckless partisanship and disregarding the rights of others, would fix a court or pack a jury. I say he granted that franchise (the Prairie Oil), I say he did it at the solicitation of Senator Depew and others, and that within a few days thereafter, chiefly through subscriptions of Standard Oil men, according to Harriman, $260,000 in cash was added to the president's campaign fund. I challenge him to publish the records of the Interior Department.

THE ravages of cholera in Russia and the terrible conditions in India, wherein thousand persons have perished from a flood, are among the horrors which at present beset the globe. Apart from these, thousands of unemployed men and women of London, New York and other large cities are keeping the police busy in suppressing anarchistic movements. Kings and queens are compelled to travel incognito or in guarded trains to keep clear of assassins, and every few days plots for the murder of crowned heads are unearthed. Some people prefer to believe the millennium is drawing near. The above facts, however, are calculated to dispel such dreams.

ATTENTION is called to the important fact that registry, in order to vote in the national election in November, must be done by Saturday, October 3. This is a very important personal, as well as public, matter for the citizens of Virginia. Only those who have paid their taxes will be permitted to register, but all of these should lose no time in doing so. It is understood there are many who have not registered. Attention to this matter on the part of democrats cannot be too strongly urged. It is a duty, and a patriotic duty at that, that should not be neglected.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT has, very wisely, concluded not to tackle Mr. Bryan again, and, as was stated in the Gazette's Washington correspondence, it was announced yesterday that the president would make no further replies to the Nebraskan. In all the correspondence that has passed between the executive and the democratic candidate for the presidency the latter has proved his ability to take care of himself, and in each instance Mr. Roosevelt has emerged second-best.

GOVERNOR HUGHES, of New York, spoke in Baltimore last night before a large gathering of republicans. He repeated what others of his party have said—that the election of Taft would ward off great disaster to the country. That this is the veriest nonsense should be apparent to all sensible people. The present hard times and the increasing number of empty dinner pails are synchronous with republican rule, and conditions are becoming more serious all the time.

ACCORDING to the American Railway Association, more than 30,000 freight cars have been taken out of the idle class in the last month, owing to the movement of the crops. This has improved business conditions in some degree, but the commercial agencies all agree that the progress is painfully slow and complicated by the reports of overproduction and unemployed thousands in Europe as well as in America.

From Washington.

Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.

Washington, Oct. 1.

The West Indian hurricane was central between Nassau and the Florida coast at 11 o'clock today, according to a storm warning issued by the Weather Bureau. The storm was sweeping up the coast at a rate of 80 miles an hour. Storm warnings accordingly were issued by the Navy Department to all the navy yards and warships on the Atlantic coast.

Secretary Root returned to his office this morning, after an absence since June 20, during which time he has taken the rest cure at Muldon's sanitarium in New York and the remainder of which time he spent at his home at Trenton, N. Y. After spending an hour with the president he went to his office where he found waiting for him a number of diplomats, this being the regular diplomatic day.

Postmaster General Meyer today received a report from the New York postoffice to the effect that after 12 o'clock, midnight, when the new two cent rate on letters to the British Isles went into effect the number of letters mailed to England exceeded by 50,000 the usual quantity.

In the Tuberculosis Congress today speeches were made by Drs. Barber, Hattenger, Bridge, Brown, Sill, Von Pierquet, Von Wagner, Stack, Burgess, Jaques, Lent and Fisher.

It was announced at the White House today that the president would not answer the statement of Gov. Haskell, of Oklahoma, who, among other things, declared that he would sue the president after his term of office.

Gov. Gen. Smith, of the Philippines, in a report to the War Department today, stated that for the 24 hours ending at 8 o'clock this morning there were 13 new cases of cholera and 5 more cases between 8 and 5 o'clock.

There were 143 vacancies in the naval academy, when the fall term of the Annapolis institution opened today. This is the largest number of vacancies since the fall of 1900. The shortage, as explained by the naval authorities, is due to a number of nominees for appointment having failed on either mental or physicial examination, and to the fact that several congressmen failed to send in their designations in sufficient time. The numbers in the different classes are as follows: First class, 175; second class, 177; third class, 236; fourth class, 223. With a full academy there should be 366 members of the fourth.

T. W. Chavers, of the Ohio Standard World, of Columbus, Ohio, claimed to be the organ of the negroes of that state, told the president today that there was great danger of Ohio going democratic. Chavers has been a close political friend of Senator Foraker but assured that he was for Taft. He explained that his brethern in Ohio were not interested in the Standard Oil discussion but that they were in the Brownsville case and from a close personal investigation he had discovered that thousands of republican negroes had decided not to go to the polls. He declined to say what the president's response was except that he was interested in the situation.

Col. Geo. W. Goethals, chairman of the isthmian canal commission, and Maj. W. L. Sibert, one of the army engineer commissioners, arrived in Washington this morning for a thorough discussion of canal matters with the authorities here. Col. Goethals discussed the subject at some length with the president.

It developed at the White House today that Chairman Frank Hitchcock, of the republican national committee has been called here for a conference with the president. According to present advices Hitchcock will be here tomorrow. It is believed the president has sent for him to discuss the political situation generally but more particularly to take up complaints of mismanagement which have reached the president. It is now disclosed that the complaint of campaign mismanagement are of a serious nature. Men who in years gone by have been prominently identified with the party machinery are reported to be very much displeased over conditions. The president has been told that everything seems to be at sixes and sevens at the New York headquarters; that those who have been placed in position of responsibility are unacquainted with party war horses and that leaders and friends of the party who have gone to headquarters for information, or to give advice or to leave a contribution have been accorded no more advantage than the caller who wishes to take up some trivial matter. It is known that a party leader has advised the retirement of Treasurer Sheldon and National Committeeman Brooker, of Connecticut campaign management.

The medical examination of Col. Wm. F. Stewart the coast artillery officer who has been ordered before a retiring board because he was rejected for the horsemanship test was continued today. These examinations will be continued tomorrow and Saturday and the medical officers expect to be able to make their report at a full meeting of the hall retiring board early next week. But few of his brother officers have called on him. Owing to the intense feeling that exists against him on the part of the War Department authorities. Col. Stewart has no plans for the future except to fight to the last against his being forcibly retired.

The Diocesan Council of the Protestant Episcopal Church, of Washington, met at St. Thomas' Church today for the purpose of electing a Bishop to succeed the late Bishop Satterlee. Dr. Randolph H. McKim is said to be most favored candidate for the position. No choice had been made at 3:30 o'clock this evening.

James H. Shenk, superintendent of the Luray water system, died yesterday at the home of his son-in-law, Joseph S. Miller, in Luray.

Mrs. Fannie Dudley Woodward, wife of Henry Reamer Woodward, and daughter of the late Bishop Thomas U. Dudley, of Kentucky, died at her home, at Middleburg, yesterday, in her forty-third year, after a lingering illness.

Federal Judge Waddill yesterday appointed H. B. Nichols and M. K. King receivers for the Norfolk Cold Storage and Ice Company, the admitted liabilities of which are $560,000, with assets estimated at $500,000.

A light frost formed at Lynchburg Tuesday night, and some slight damage may have been done in the surrounding country to late vegetation. The government thermometers showed a minimum last night of 41.8 degrees, which is unusually cool weather for the season.

Duncan McPherson, foreman, and Socrates C. Dalby, carpenter, were perhaps fatally injured by the falling of a scaffold from the second story of a building at Norfolk yesterday. There is scarcely any hope for the recovery of McPherson.

When flatly refused a temporary loan, which he sought to negotiate with his brother, Thomas Purnell, Andrew Purnell, of Suffolk, yesterday afternoon drew his gun and, aiming at his brother's heart, pulled the trigger. Thomas grabbed the pistol muzzle and deflected the ball, which, however, passed through his hand. The would-be murderer escaped.

Frank Clark, alias Joseph Bush, colored, yesterday was captured at Lewiston, N. C. Clark is wanted on the charge of burning $5,000 worth of property owned by James M. Branch, of Isle-Of-Wright, a brother of Hurrican Branch, the bloodhound detective, who made the arrest. Aside from buildings, Branch lost by fire eight horses and mules, 22 Jersey cows, several hundred barrels of corn and a lot of farm machinery. The torch was applied last January 25.

The Westley farm near Spottsylvania, the residence in ante-bellum days of the late John Archibald Stuart, and used during the battle of Spottsylvania Court House in 1864 as the principal hospital for Confederate soldiers, has been sold to L. N. Hoge, sr., of Spottsylvania county. The large brick plant, the property of the estate of the late E. W. Mills has been sold to George J. Fletcher, of Fredericksburg, for the low sum of $800. Mr. Fletcher will immediately put the plant in operation.

Harmon Hiner died at his home, in Pendleton county, W. Va., last Monday evening. He was the father of B. H. Hiner, democratic nominee for Congress in the Second district. Mr. Hiner was an ex-Confederate soldier and a highly respected citizen in the section where he resided.

After inaction of nearly a week on the part of the authorities, during which time the outlaws have strongly fortified their position in the wild recesses between the James and Slate rivers, in Buckingham county, the citizens of Arvonia, which town has been threatened with destruction by the outlaws and the people with lynching, have announced that unless some action is taken by the authorities today they will themselves march on the outlaw stronghold for the purpose of destroying the gang. The people are tired of the reign of terror which has existed for the past several days.

News of the Day.

A Turkish steamship ran down the steam ferryboat Stamboul outside the harbor at Smyrna, yesterday. One hundred and forty persons were drowned.

"Auntie" Eliza E. Bliss, aged 103, died at Pueblo, Col., recently. She distinctly remembered four American war periods.

To project a canal to connect Lakes Michigan and Huron at Grand Haven and Saginaw, the Grand-Saginaw Valley Deepwater Association was organized at Grand Rapids, Mich., yesterday, by delegates from six cities along the route of the proposed waterway.

Lazare Weiller, the French aeroplane promoter, announced yesterday that he had given an order to Wilbur Wright for the construction of 50 Wright aeroplanes. The amount of this contract is $100,000, and M. Weiller is convinced that Mr. Wright can carry it out.

Acting Commissioner of Internal Revenue Williams holds that any club dispensing liquors to its members and making a charge for service is liable to special tax if the service charge includes any portion of the cost of the liquors furnished.

Charles Kline, who shot and killed William Reynolds, his brother-in-law, at Pondsville, Md., Tuesday night, was arrested by Sheriff Earnshaw at 2 o'clock yesterday morning in bed at the home of Christian Paulsgrove, several miles from the scene of the tragedy.

Motorman Samuel Ediavitch was seriously injured and many passengers shaken up when northbound car No. 812 collided with southbound car No. 433, in Delaware avenue northeast, Washington, between Union Station and C street, about 7 o'clock last night. The motorman was taken to Casualty Hospital, where he was treated for a wound in the breast. He will recover.

Today's Telegraphic News

Preparing to Strike

London, Oct. 1.—Combination by all but one of the great railways of England to resist the demands of their employes for higher pay and shorter hours promise to precipitate a tremendous strike throughout the island. Leaders of the various railroad men's union say that the companies' combination will gain strength with time and that they must strike promptly if they hope to win. The unions are now arranging for an early referendum vote on the question of striking, and there is no doubt that the vote will be in the affirmative. The men ask wage increases averaging about 25 per cent. with definite limitation of working hours and double pay for overtime. The pay of English railroad men averages about $5 a week for signalmen, $16 for the most skillful engineers and $8 for guards, who correspond to conductors in America. The men work at least ten and often 18 hours a day. If the strike is ordered it will affect nearly 500,000 railroad and counting the allied trains, the number of men thrown out of employment would soon reach 1,500,000. With more than a million out of work as a result of the cotton mill lockout and a still larger number as a result of the general business depression, the railroads' action is so threatening that it will probably be made a subject of parliamentary debate when the house reconvenes the middle of October.

Charges Against a Priest

Rutland, Vt., Oct. 1.—A Roman Catholic priest in solitary confinement, charged with bribing an accomplice by promises to aid in his escape, is the predictament of Rev. Father Francis Crociata, pastor of the Church of Our Lady of Sorrows, imprisoned with five alleged conspirators in the murder of Baccarito Santore, a Sicilian laborer. When first confined in the house of correction, Father Crociata was accorded special privileges in the chaplain's quarters. Discovered in conversation with a fellow prisoner he was cautioned against a repetition, but was again detected and has been sent to the solitary. In court today it developed that the priest promised to send Vito Turcianna, one of the alleged murderers, a saw hidden in a dish of macaroni on condition that the prisoner would testify according to the wishes of the priest.

Rare Disease.

St. Louis, Oct. 1.—Stricken with one of the rarest diseases known to science, Zoran Zigni, aged 43, is a patient in the skin and cancer hospital. No hope is entertained for his recovery. "Pemphigus foliaceus" is the name given this incurable disease. It resembles leprosy, eating away the skin and tissues. In leprosy, the skin crumbles and wastes away. In Zigni's ailment, it completely disappears, giving the body the appearance of being severely burned. Often the entire skin disappears before death comes, giving the victim terrible pain.

The American Fleet.

Manila, Oct. 1.—A message from the American fleet this afternoon indicated that the ships were less than 300 miles away, and at the present rate of travel, would arrive at Manila early Friday afternoon.

The fleet will spend most of the time at Cavite, where the vessels will be coaled. It will sail from Cavite Oct. 10.

The cholera situation is so much improved that there is much regret that the ships have been ordered not to land.

For a Sprained Ankle.

A sprained ankle may be cured in about one-third the time usually required, by applying Chamberlain's Liniment freely, and giving it absolute rest. For sale by W. F. Creighton and Richard Gibson.

New York Politics.

Chicago, Oct. 1.—If William J. Bryan fails to carry New York state at the coming election the country is apt to witness a hot exchange of direct charges between the Tammany chieftains and the western leaders of the democratic party. Suspicions that Tammany is preparing to knife Bryan, in the hope of forever wrecking the Nebraskan's hopes of achieving the presidency, were expressed at democratic headquarters today. The advisors of the democratic nominee declare that Bryan's "fearless policy of antagonism to the corrupt forces in democracy have gained him the enmity of unscrupulous democrats who will work with the republicans to rid themselves of a man who has been a menace to most of their plans."

In a new declaration today as to what are and are not the issues of the state campaign Democratic State Chairman William J. Connors practically eliminated the race track betting issue. He said: "The democrats make no issue of the anti-race betting law. We are not the race track party. We have not considered it. There is no demand in the party that the bill be repealed. There are too many issues upon which we can attack Hughes."

"The wiser heads in the republican party have called Roosevelt," said Democratic National Chairman Norman Mack at democratic headquarters here today, in discussing the president's refusal to answer Bryan's last letter. "His future effectiveness in the campaign is nil." Mack declared that there had been no complete shift in the democratic campaign from the middle west to the east. He will spend Sunday in Buffalo en route.

European Land Grab Probable.

London, Oct. 1.—A parcelling out of the Balkan territory in a European land grab, as a consequence of the threatened war between Turkey and Bulgaria, is believed by diplomats here today to be inevitable.

A climax to the Turko-Bulgarian dispute over the Roumelian location of the Oriental Railway came today when the Bulgarian cabinet flatly announced its intention of holding this section.

If Turkey, recognizing her unpreparedness for war, overlooks this affront from Bulgaria, it will mean the loss of her suzeraiety over Bulgaria. Complete independence is Bulgaria's aim, and she is believed to be baiting Turkey to the commission of some act that will give her the provocation for a declaration of independence.

England is convinced that the Balkan situation is pregnant with the gravest possibilities, and fears that it will lead to a re-alignment of powers and their scope of power in the Balkans.

England is protesting against Austria-Hungary's intention to annex Bosnia and Herzegovina, which are virtually a part of Austria-Hungary though nominally included in the Turkish empire. This annexation will take place October 8, according to Austria-Hungary's announcement.

The move is a part of the pan-German scheme of aggression and is already being fought by Russia and Italy.

The triple alliance of Germany, Italy and Austria is threatened by this move.

In the event of a war with Bulgaria, Turkey will likely seek an alliance with Greece.

Distress in India.

Bombay, Oct. 1.—Between two and three million people are shelterless, facing starvation and threatened with a fever pestilence as a result of the flood that has devastated the city of Haidarabad and the entire Musi river valley.

Rescuers who are now on the scene report conditions as more appalling as the water subsides. The whole valley is a sea of soft mud from which the arms, legs and heads of thousands of victims are protruding.

The relief expeditions are unable to traverse this quagmire for fear of being swallowed up in the soft mud. It will be probably two weeks before the ground will permit of a thorough search.

Rescuers are wearing clothing soaked in disinfectants to prevent contamination, and at times the stench is so fearful as to drive them from their work. The total casualties resulting from the disaster will undoubtedly reach 10,000. Half this number are believed to have been drowned, and as many more deaths will undoubtedly result from the terrible conditions now prevailing in the region.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Oct. 1—The only active trading in the first hour was confined to half dozen issues, the great majority of stocks in the so-called active list being neglected. At the end of the hour the market was dull and generally without pronounced features.

After the first hour the market ruled intensely dull, with declines of about 1 point in the few leading issues and a general sagging off in values in other stocks in which there happened to be important trading.

AN OLD SAYING.

Showing How Cause and Effect Are Never Far Removed.

It is an old saying "Where there's honey there's bees"—not less true is one which science has coined more recently, "Where there's Dandruff there's germs"—and—to push the inference still further we may truly say "Where there's Dandruff cured Newbro's Herpicide has been at work."

The reason of Herpicide's instantaneous as a genuine cure for Dandruff lies in the fact that it attacks and destroys the root of the whole trouble—a parasitic germ which feeds upon the material which nourishes the hair follicle.

Other so-called remedies are not directed at this true cause of the disease. Accept no substitute; there is none.

High Price for Referee.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 1.—James J. Jeffories, retired heavy weight champion of the world, has been asked to referee the fight between Tommy Burns and Jack Johnson, the negro, at Sydney, Australia, late in November. According to report Jeffories will accept the proposition if he is guaranteed five thousand dollars and his transportation. If the managers of the syndicate financing the fight agree to Jeffries' proposition the price paid for his services will be the highest ever paid a referee in any athletic tournament.

Offered Increase in Salary.

Pittsburg, Oct. 1.—Rather than lose the services of their pastor, who has been called to the Bedford Avenue Presbyterian Church of Brooklyn, the congregation of the Second Presbyterian Church of this city has offered to increase the salary of Rev. Dr. S. Edward Young from $7,000 to $10,000. It is understood the Brooklyn call did not carry a better offer with it. Dr. Young refuses to say whether he will accept the Brooklyn call.

Street Car and Carriage Collide.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 1.—John McConnell, a capitalist, is in a critical condition and John C. and Miss Celia O'Malley, of Youngstown, are seriously injured as the result of a collision of a street car and the carriage in which the party was leaving a wedding ceremony on Euclid Heights, a suburb. Fred Green, driver, was instantly killed. Green was thrown fifty feet and crushed by a street car traveling in the opposite direction.

LETTER TO D BENDHEIM & SONS

Alexandria, Va.

Dear Sirs: If you were our agent you'd have lots of fun hearing what competitors say of Devoe.

They all agree that it isn't right.

It isn't right for them; it takes less gallons. They don't say that. They say: "too much zinc," "too much lead;" they don't say "too little oil;" they don't say "too strong;" they don't say "goes too far," or "takes too few gallons to cover a job."

It is right for the owner; right for the painter; right for the building; wrong for the man who wants to sell more gallons for that same job.

We can't suit everybody. Enough to suit all but one.

Yours truly,

IN RECEIVERS' HANDS.

Charlottesville's only department store, the Leterman Company, composed of the sons of the late Simon Leterman, and the widow of his eldest son, Moses Leterman, went into the hands of a receiver yesterday, Judge Dowell of the United States district Court, upon the petition of certain New York creditors, appointing John S. White to take charge of the establishment. The creditors alleged that the company was insolvent, which allegation the company disputed. It is understood that eventually the business will be reorganized under practically the same company as before.

Mr. Bryan is today quietly observing the 24th anniversary of his marriage in his home at Fairview, Neb., following the completion of his third campaign trip. He declined to comment on the president's refusal to answer his letter on the grounds that it was a personal attack upon Mr. Roosevelt. A friend with whom he discussed the matter declares, however, that he will continue to take issue with the president and that he will do so in his public speeches.

POLITICAL.

In a speech at Denver, Colo., last night, William R. Hearst read two more letters from John D. Archbold to Senator Foraker, telling of remittances and assailed both parties. He declared he had shown up bribery of the leaders and that he would leave the candidates to their consciences. He charged that Gov. Haskell stocked and bonded the democratic platform.

In a statement at Lincoln, Nebr., last night, Judge Taft accepted the challenge of William Jennings Bryan to come out in support of the stand the president has taken in regard to publicity of campaign contributions before the election. The candidate declared that while he believed the expenses, as well as the contributions, in a campaign should be made public, it would be unwise to publish such matter before the election. He recalled, in support of his argument, the fight being made on Gov. Hughes because certain Wall street interests had supported the republican ticket in the New York campaign.

Gov. Charles E. Hughes, of New York, addressed an enthusiastic mass-meeting last night in Baltimore. The attendance was estimated at 4,000, a much smaller crowd than greeted Mr. Bryan on his recent visit there. In his speech Governor Hughes contrasted Judge Taft as a man of action with Mr. Bryan as a man of promises. He ridiculed the proposed guarantee of bank deposits, declared the republican injunction plank a protection to workingmen, and characterized as chimerical the Bryan plank limiting manufacturers to 50 per cent. of the total output. Friends of Mr. Bryan in the crowd applauded the mention of his name.

As soon as Mr. Bryan's name was mentioned they jumped to their feet and began to cheer madly. In less time than it takes to tell many of the women had joined in the cheering and clapped their hands and waved handkerchiefs. There were hundreds of democrats in other parts of the hall, and they took up the cheering. Mr. Robert M. Smith, the presiding officer was so rattled and the big politicians on the platform, including Gov. Hughes, were so surprised, that they could do nothing but silently look on.

Charging that President Roosevelt was unfair in passing judgment on him without putting the matter up for the decision of a tribunal, as was suggested, and declaring that the chief executive has proved himself unworthy of the trust placed in him by the American public, Gov. Charles N. Haskell, of Oklahoma, yesterday increased his letter to the chief executive to 2,500 words. Gov. Haskell's message is filled with violent attacks on the president, and contains a challenge for the publication of the records of the Interior Department showing the granting of the Prairie Oil franchise, and contributions to the Roosevelt campaign fund through E. H. Harriman.

"I do not get drunk on any occasion and never did in my life," writes Governor Haskell, "but I still have your letter of last winter, which I shall be glad to publish with your permission, advocating your idea of interstate commerce shipments of whisky into prohibition territory. He challenges publication of the Roosevelt campaign fund; declares he will not submit to comparison of morals with the chief executive; demands that he innocence or guilt be established by facts as presented on both sides; and asks if Judge Taft could take solemn oath to the Almighty if he is elected to the presidency of the United States. He says "it may have been sufficient four years ago, to wipe out the truthful statement made by Judge Parker by simply calling him a liar." He charges that land suits were brought for a political end. Governor Haskell also says. "Mr. Roosevelt, you know it is not so. You know all the land was Indian land without county, township or territorial government. What halo of integrity surrounded you last week, like the mist, has faded away, and the Interior Department holds the record which convicts you. If granted the (Prairie oil) franchise at the solicitation of Senator Depew, and a few days thereafter received $260,000 in cash for your campaign."

THE HENRY STREET TRACK CASE.

As was stated in the Gazette of that day, Judge Thornton in the Circuit Court for the city yesterday entered a decree sustaining the claim of the Southern Railway Company for the use of Henry street for its tracks. This decision was the outcome of action upon the part of the City Council to compel the railway company to abandon Henry street and the injunction proceedings instituted by the company. Judge Thornton in reviewing the case calls attention to the fact that:

"In 1892 the plaintiff and defendant were in litigation over the right of plaintiff to use Henry street. A compromise was effected by which defendant enacted an ordinance, giving to plaintiff its successors and assigns the right to use said street in perpetuity for a consideration, which has been faithfully executed. The adoption of this ordinance was followed by a final decree in the pending litigation, by which it was specifically approved and confirmed. Subsequently to this an act of the general assembly, (Acts 1899 1900) specifically ratifies, approves and confirms the action of the city in the premises. The railroad has leased and proposes to sell the franchise to the Southern Railway Company. It is hard to conceive how plaintiff could have acquired its right to use the street with any higher guarantee than the ones by which it apparently obtained in this instance. For value paid the city authorities consented. A solemn adjudication of a court, to which both plaintiff and defendant were parties, approved and confirmed. And the legislature of the state, representing the rights of the public, gave its sanction."

Continuing Judge Thornton says:

"I find no embarassment from the fact that the legislative act followed and did not precede the municipal ordinance. At that time the legislature alone represented the public rights. Its enactment were supreme so far as the public rights were concerned, It could sanction the right of plaintiff to use the streets of the municipality with or without its assent. The important fact is, that it did sanction and consent to the use of Henry street by plaintiff and not the phrase in which that sanction and consent was given. It is immaterial that it chose to give its assent in the form of a ratification of a town ordinance. But as the authorities cited abundantly show, that if the acts were treated as ex post facto or retroactive it would be none the less valid. The most recent decision I now recall is the decision of our highest court upon the act validating the last land assessment, but the case of Bell vs. Farmville, R. R. Co., 91 Va., shows the extent to which this doctrine is carried. Every department of the state government, both local and general, seems to have concurred in giving force and effect to this right in the plaintiff to use this street."

* * * I think the able attorney for the city admitted, that before the city could annul the right of plaintiff it must have reasonable cause. He insists, however, that this cause is found in the fact alleged in the bill, that plaintiff has leased its franchise to the Southern Railway Company and proposes to sell the same.

Public service corporations have frequently in the past sold and leased and merged their corporate rights and franchises in whole and some times in part, but I have never known them to seek the assent of every municipality through whose limits their lines passed. I would have to feel very certain of my position to question this general conceneus that such consent was not necessary. If every contract between such corporations relative to their franchises would have to receive the sanction of every municipality through which their lines passed it would be a great burden upon the property value of such franchises. But I think when a franchise is granted to a public service corporation it has every right therein conferred by corporate powers. The general statutes of the commonwealth give to a public service corporation the right to sell or lease in whole or in part any or all of its franchises. The charter of this corporation gives it the same right. And the very ordinance and statute by which this plaintiff acquired the right to use Henry street is a grant to plaintiff "its successors or assigns." It would seem therefore in leasing or selling its franchise to the Southern Railway Company plaintiff is acting within the power granted by the ordinance.

I consider, therefore, that this plaintiff or any assigns of it have rights in Henry street, which are not subject to the uncontrollable actions of the defendant municipality.

CHARGED WITH THEFT.

As was stated in the Gazette, Officer Roberts yesterday arrested a colored man named John Miller on the charge of stealing a gold watch and ring belonging to Mrs. M. C. Hoenstein. The watch and ring were stolen from Mrs. Hoenstein's residence on upper King street last March. Miller was brought before the Police Court this morning when he stated that he purchased a pawn ticket for the watch and ring from a colored man in Washington. The case was postponed until the 7th instant.

JEALOUSY REWARDED.

Mr. Charles Speiss, a well known shipbuilder, opened up a little repair shop and plant at the foot of Wilkes street recently and was gaining quite an amount of trade. Some people evidently envious of his success were anxious to dampen his ardor and notified the B. & O. Railroad authorities that he was a squatter on their property. Mr. Speiss received notice a day or two ago that if he wanted to continue business where he was located he would in future be compelled to pay $300 per year.

MEETING IN THE COUNTY.

A number of democrats of this city last night attended the political rally in Alexandria county where it was announced that Governor Swanson, Senator Daniel and Congressman Carlin were to speak. Senator Daniel did not appear, but the meeting went on just the same. Prior to the rally, Governor Swanson and Representative C. C. Carlin were entertained at luncheon and dinner at the home of Richard Moncure at East Falls Church. Governor Swanson was the first speaker and he assailed the principles and candidates of the republican party. He said it had proven itself a foe to labor. He said the democrats had buried all dissention and internal strife, and were marching on to success. At the conclusion of his address, Governor Swanson was given a huge bouquet of flowers by little Miss Rosa Lee Crack.

Mr. R. C. L. Moncure, in introducing Hon. C. C. Carlin paid a high tribute to the congressman and pictured him as a future governor of Virginia, which sentiment was loudly applauded. Mr. Carlin launched into the issues of the campaign. He spoke of his trip to West Virginia and said that everything pointed to democratic success this year. Mr. Carlin, after devoting considerable time to the inconsistencies of the republican party and commenting on its indifference to the laboring classes, declared Virginia had never had such a governor as Mr. Swanson.

The enthusiasm of the rallying democrats ran so high that Attorney Andrew A. Lipscomb was called upon to deliver an address. Mounting the platform he made a speech entirely impromptu. Mr. Lipscomb was at his best, and time and again was interrupted by thunderous applause from the vast crowd.

Senator Daniel spoke to a large audience at Great Falls yesterday as did also Governor Swanson and Congressman Carlin. Many voters from this city heard the speeches and pronounced them excellent.

The reception tendered the governor and Congressman Carlin in Alexandria county was first class in every particular and was in the hands of Messrs. Walter V. Varney, James E. Clements, George W. Zachary, Curtis B. Graham, J. R. Kann and Frank Upman, who did their work well in handling the immense crowd.

A. A. C. DEFEATS THE OLD DOMINIONS.

The A. A. C. and the Old Dominion football teams, two local aggregations, met on the gridiron yesterday and when the dust of battle raised the A. A. C. emerged victorious by the score of 10 to 0. The A. A. C. was out-weighed 10 pounds to the man, but completely out-played their heavy opponents. The playing of L. Cockrell, McBride, Hamilton, McDermott, Beach, K. Cockrell and Southerland for the A. A. C. were the features, and long run by fullback, L. Cockrell for a touchdown, was one of the most sensational runs ever seen on the local grounds. The A. A. C. will play Rockville, in Rockville, on Saturday. The line-up follows:

Old Dominions.		A. A. C
Tomlin	C	Cook

Referees, Messrs. H. Beverley and Thos. Fisher. Time of halves, 15 minutes.

PUTTY BLOWER AGAIN.

A colored boy this morning started to amuse himself by blowing putty at a Chinaman who conducts a laundry on the corner of St. Asaph and Prince streets. The Celestial becoming tired of being stung chased the negro and caught him on lower St. Asaph street and proceeded to drag him toward King street. He was interfered with by two negro men and trouble ensued, with the result that Officers Garvey and Rawlett were sent to the scene and arrested the boy and the two men who interfered and locked them up.

In the course of the confusion which followed the Chinamen catching the boy one Richard Pine, colored, stood on the corner and gave vent to some nasty words expressive as to the part he would play if the youth was his boy. His filthy language was heard almost a block.

POLICE COURT.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

John Miller, colored, charged with the larceny of a watch from Mrs. M. C. Hoenstein, had his case continued until the 7th instant.

James Griffin, charged with being drunk on the street and begging, was sent to jail for sixty days.

John Chatterbuck, charged with being drunk, was dismissed with an admonition.

A white man, charged with drunkenness, was sent to jail for 30 days.

Two boys, charged with disorderly conduct, were dismissed with an admonition.

DEATH OF AN OLD RESIDENT.

Mr. William H. Hantzmon, an old resident of this city, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. S. W. Goodson, 103 E street, Washington, this morning. The deceased was in the 88th year of his age. He leaves three sons and one daughter. Mr. Hantzmon for nearly half a century was connected with the Alexandria Gas Works, at one time having been superintendent. He had recently made his home with his daughter in Washington. He came to Alexandria from Baltimore in 1828. The deceased was a quiet and respected citizen, and his many friends and acquaintances will regret to hear of his death. His remains will be brought to this city for interment.

CAR KILLS HORSE.

One of the trolley cars which was conveying a number of passengers to the Alexandria county rally last night struck a horse between Arlington station and Rosslyn, killing it immediately. The car was damaged but the passengers outside of a shaking up were unhurt.

BADLY SCARED.

Mrs. Joseph F. Rodgers last Tuesday went into the cellar of her residence on south Fairfax street, and stepped on something that she thought moved under her foot and she was badly frightened. She ran upstairs and the incident was forgotten until today when a little dog was heard barking furiously in the yard. A member of the family went to search for the trouble and a 2-foot moccasin hastily made its way to the cellar where it was killed. Mrs. Rodgers is positive that this was the same snake she trod upon a few days ago. There are a number of boys in this city who have a mania for catching snakes and keeping them penned up at their homes. They are careless with them and they get away and find a lodging place in yards where there are lots of undergrowth and they make very dangerous playthings for little children and the feminine members of families.

WANT ALLEY OPENED.

Mr. Richard Watkins made an effort today to compel the men who had placed obstructions in the alley running from Union street to the strand between Prince and Duke streets, to remove such. The Emerson Pump Co. owns buildings on the strand on each side of this alley and has constructed a bridge connecting the two. It is claimed that when an alley is private property and not a public thoroughfare that part of it abutting on property belongs to the owners of the same.

CIRCUIT COURT FOR THE CITY.

[Judge J. B. T. Thornton, presiding.]

Luther Carter vs. Virginia R. Simpson; suit for five hundred dollars, amount claimed to be due for commission on sale of property; jury and case in progress.

The plaintiff was represented by Messrs. Norton and Machen and the defendant by Mr. S. P. Fisher. The hearing was held in the U. S. court room as the city court rooms are being remodeled.

POLICE COMMISSIONERS.

A meeting of the Police Commissioners was held last night and was of an interesting character. It is understood that two of the officers were charged with cowardice and another of insubordination. The result of the meeting, it is said, was that the members tried were warned that a repetition of the offense would mean suspension or expulsion.

KILLED.

Epps Keys, of near Bristow Station, was run over and killed at Manassas Tuesday evening by south-bound passenger train No. 15. Keys stepped from one track to avoid a train and directly in front of the other train. Keys was a brother of the man who shot Jack McCue in Fairfax county last year.

REGISTER VOTERS.

Voters must have their names enrolled on the books if they desire to exercise the right of suffrage. The lists will close October 3, and then no one can register until after the fall election, Voters who have changed their residence since the last election will have to get transfers. This is imperative.

SCURRILOUS POSTAL.

Postoffice Inspector Mathews has arrested G. W. Burgess, a farmer of Fauquier, on the charge of sending scurrilous postal cards through the mail to a young lady of New Baltimore. Deputy Marshal Joseph F. Glover has gone to Fauquier for the prisoner and his case will be heard before U. S. Commissioner R. P. W. Garnett on Saturday.

DANCE LAST NIGHT.

"I have nothing to live for. My health is all gone." The man who has suffered for years of stomach trouble indeed feels that he has nothing to live for. He feels like it would be better for himself and friends if he was dead. "Better that a millstone were around his neck and he was cast into the sea." He is always suffering and is cross with his family and all his friends and every one near him. Life is a burden almost too great to bear. If this has described you why not take Dr. Bennett's "NEW LIFE" and be a different man? Why not enjoy the beauties of this delightful world? Why not get well and be more pleasant with all mankind? "NEW LIFE" will surely cure you. Price, $1.00; six bottles, $5.00. For sale by all druggists.

THURSDAY EVENING, OCT. 1, 1908.

CARDINAL SAILS TODAY.

Cardinal Gibbons arrived at Queenstown yesterday from London. He will be the guest of the Bishop of Cloyne until today, when he will embark on the steamer Carpoia for New York. The cardinal was met on his arrival at the railroad station by the members of the city council and a number of other persons prominent in Queenstown and presented with an address of welcome.

In an interview Cardinal Gibbons said he felt there would be no objection in the United States, such as raised in London, to the carrying of the Sacred Host through the streets. Common sense, he continued, should cause the repeal of the statute which prevented the procession as planned in England. Catholics would not be afraid to hold a procession of the Blessed Sacrament in New York, Boston, Baltimore, Philadelphia or Chicago.

With regard to the coming presidential election in the United States, the cardinal said that it would be fought out with ballots, not bullets. The people would record their votes peaceably and all would be reconciled after the fight, no matter who won. That was the great feature, he added, of American elections.

Cardinal Gibbons was entertained at a farewell dinner yesterday evening by the Most Rev. Robert Browne, bishop of the Diocese of Cloyne.

DOCTORS DISAGREE.

Whether the human being can be infected with pulmonary tuberculosis through transmission of bacilli from infected cattle was the one, the all absorbing, topic of discussion which yesterday rent the International Congress on Tuberculosis in session in Washington. The question was the rock on which the delegates split.

Two masters of medical science and leaders in the discussion, Dr. Robert Koch, Germany's foremost scientist, and Dr. F. Arloing, professor of the faculty of medicine, of Lyons, France, and one of the leading authorities on tuberculosis in his country, hold such widely divergent views that the differentiation between animal and bovine tuberculosis is by no means settled in the minds of the majority of the delegates.

It appeared to the observer that the preponderance of opinion was against Dr. Koch in his declared belief that "up to date in no case of pulmonary tuberculosis has the tubercle bacillius of the bovine type been definitely demonstrated."

In this view Dr. Koch is combated by Dr. Arloing, who declares he is a "stanch adherent of the doctrine of the unity of the tubercle bacillius."

In an informal talk before members of the congress, Prof. Dr. Koch, Europe's foremost tuberculosis expert, declared that the methods employed by the health department of New York city were so far advanced as to be a model for the world.

Dr. Detre's and Dr. von Perquet's inoculation to diagnose early stages of consumption has been tested on ten children at the Children's Hospital, and was pronounced satisfactory to them.

DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills are for weak back, backache, rheumatic pains, inflammation of the bladder and all other annoyances due to weak kidneys. They are sold by W. F. Creighton & Co.

PRESIDENT TO HUNT ALONE.

Rough Riders and trappers who have been looking forward to the president's African trip as an occasion in which they would play a part will be disappointed. The president has no intention of having anybody accompany him on the trip except his son Kermit. Two taxidermists from the National Museum will go along, but they will not be invited directly. The National Museum will be asked to detail them from the official staff, as the president intends to send back such specimens as the museum may want to preserve.

No definite itinerary has been arranged. The caravan will be mustered in after Mr. Roosevelt reaches the African coast. Reports that the president has accepted an invitation from this or that official or dignitary are premature.

A Traveling Man's Experience.

"I must tell you my experience on an east bound O. R. & N. R. R. train from Pendleton to Le Grande, Ore., writes Sam A. Garber, a well known traveling man. "I was in the smoking department with some other traveling men when one of them went out into the coach and came back and said, 'There is a woman sick unto death in the car.' I at once got up and went out, found her very ill with cramp colic; her hands and arms were drawn up so you could not straighten them, and with a deathlike look on her face. Two or three ladies were working with her and giving her whisky. I went to my suit case and got my bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy (I never travel without it), ran to the water tank, put a double dose of the medicine in the glass, poured some water into it and stirred it with a pencil; then I had quite a time to get the ladies to let me give it to her, but I succeeded. I could at once see the effect and I worked with her, rubbing her hands, and in twenty minutes I gave her another dose. By this time we were almost into Le Grande, where I was to leave the train. I gave the bottle to the husband to be used in case another dose should be needed, but by the time the train ran into Le Grande she was all right, and I received the thanks of every passenger in the car." For sale by W. F. Creighton & Co., and Richard Gibson.
